

Philad Nov. 24. 1817.

C My dear Sir.

your very acceptable letter dated a few days ere your departure from Wilmington accompanied by a packet of plants came to me just on the point of setting off for Bucks County, and now just returned I find a subsequent one from the same place, together with one this day rec'd. from Norfolk dated the 20th inst. you will perceive then that it is not possible for me to enter on any detail of a Botanik nature on the interesting contents of the two former, and even this hasty reply will hardly reach you short in time. I will however say two words in relation to the Scapus you found at Washington, which I did in compliance with your wish examine and compare with your own description & with specimens of my own considered as Scapus autumnalis, which if not the same, comes very near to S. mulronei Scapus My. your plant say the single specimen you sent me fits well your description save that you call the calyx terete I find it completely flat, and with my best means on the whole, which may be poor at best, of judging, I am most inclined to consider it as a low perhaps stoned variety of S. autumnalis. But you on the spot among living plants and in possession of many Specimens ought to be a better judge in the case. I note what you remark on some copies of Mr. Elliott's work which you expect to regard to which I wish you had entered a little more in detail, for tho' your manner and style is generally very clear and comprehensive, on the present occasion I am somewhat at a loss to know what you wish me to do - but Mr. Kinsey will doubtless explain, and I certainly shall be ready to comply with any wish of yours in the case - I had a year ago a prospectus of Mr. E. to which I promised a dozen names and could have got more, but was told Mr E. in his Agent ^{in H.C.} had a ^{was} about to have an agent here, which prevented me ever reassembling my list, for the inconvenience and expense in distributing a work coming from a distant place, in numbers - at distant periods of time is great - with all my care where 12 names are only concerned, the parties are scattered, some delivered, some not, part paid for and one if not two lost or mislaid

The business it seems to me is more especially that of a Bookseller - Would this reach me say particularly what you would have me do. If the mere sending to Wilmington the copies forwarded for you to Mr Kenzie be all, that is nothing, who are the Potters & on speak of? I presume they are Booksellers -

It is now 12 at night.
let the time claim your indulgence for the hasty manner of the present & a crawl - accept my thanks again extended, together with my best wishes for your health & prosperity.

Dear Sir,

LIBRARY
NEW YORK
BOTANICAL GARDEN.

Do not in this late offer of thanks for your letter of Dec. last, to refuse them on acc't of my seeming neglect. In truth, I waited to go over the little packet first, in which I placed some very small specimens without fructification. On the Penn^{d.} mountains last summer I met with an accident, blinding me for a week, which since has subjected my eyes to occasional inflammation, and I have lately been forbidden to subject them to any severe test till the present tendency be subsided. Hence have I not for these 4 months at least, contented to behold a minute thing in natural history. My sight is now better, & I hope will be quite as before the injury.

Mr. Ropeneque called on me last week to say you were desirous to know the locality of the Blue Iron Earth.

The principal one whence the Specimens are obtained I have never visited but it is on the water of Crosswick creek not far from Allentown

It was there discovered more than 50 years ago, used as a pigment and a notice of it published in a magazine of those days.

If you wish to visit the place many persons in that neighborhood would put you a proper direction

I shall have the pleasure of writing you again, I trust as long. Yours respectfully J. T. Collier

Yours respectfully,

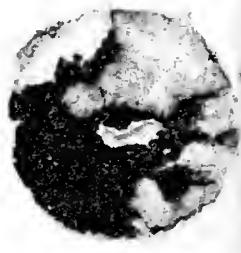

L. C. Ellwood
